

Transportation Consultancy and Insurance

Another one of the services provided by MaxPro involves truck consultancy and insurance for all its clients. MaxPro Management provides consultation on various transportation related issues, specifically those concerned with trucks and their management. MaxPro offers advice on various issues and directs the companies towards success. MaxPro also manage IRP accounts and fuel tax reporting for the transportation companies. The company guides clients interested in owning truck companies and helps them get the true worth of their money as well.

Clients of MaxPro Management are also provided insurance that suits their needs. MaxPro acts as a liaison between the organization and various insurance companies, in order to find the best possible products for them. MaxPro staffs works closely with client companies to ensure their insurance needs are being met at the best possible prices.